Root's Column

Reading for 1900.

This is the time of year when bee-keepers select their reading for another year. The ABC of Bee-Culture will furnish you profitable and interesting reading for a long time. It tells all about the management of the apiary throughout the year, the methods pursued by leading bee-keepers, and the different hives in use. Better send for the book at once. If you wish, we will send you sample pages.

Sold by all dealers in bee-keepers' supplies, or sent by the publishers for $1.20, postpaid. We will furnish you Gleanings in Bee-Culture one year with the book for $1.75, postpaid.

By the way, Gleanings in Bee-Culture has 950 pages in a year, and has averaged this for the past 10 years, yet the price is only $1.00 a year. If you have not seen a copy lately, send for our December 15th issue which contains the PRIZE PICTURES, as well as the photographs of Editors York and Hutchinson. This contains our annual index which will show you the scope of Gleanings articles during the year. It also contains the index of contributors and the illustrations of the year. That the index might not crowd our reading-matter we give 16 pages extra. In this issue we give an illustration and description of the DANZENBAKER HIVE for 1900.

If you want a copy of this issue you must ask for it at once, as we have only a few to spare.

The Novelty Pocket-Knife

(A heavier and stronger knife than the one we offered heretofore.)

(THIS CUT IS THE FULL SIZE OF THE KNIFE.)

Your Name on the Knife.—When ordering, be sure to say just what name and address you wish put on the Knife.

The Novelty Knife is indeed a novelty. The novelty lies in the handle. It is made beautifully of indestructible celluloid, which is as transparent as glass. Underneath the celluloid, on one side of the handle is placed the name and residence of the Subscriber.

The Material entering into this celebrated knife is of the very best quality; the blades are hand-forged out of the very finest English razor-steel, and we warrant every blade. The bolsters are made of German silver, and will never rust or corrode. The rivets are hardened German silver wire; the linings are plate brass; the back springs of Sheffield spring-steel, and the finish of the handle as described above. It will last a lifetime, with proper usage.

Why Own the Novelty Knife?—In case a good knife is lost, the chances are the owner will never recover it; but if the Novelty is lost, having name and address of owner, the finder will return it; otherwise to try to destroy the name and address, would destroy the knife. If traveling, and you meet with a serious accident, and are so fortunate as to have one of the Novelties, your POCKET-KNIFE will serve as an identifier; and in case of death, your relatives will at once be apprised of the accident.

How appropriate this knife is for a present! What more lasting memento could a mother give to a son, a wife to a husband, a sister to a brother, or a lady to a gentleman, the knife having the name of the recipient on one side?

The accompanying cut gives a faint idea, but cannot fully convey an exact representation of this beautiful knife, as the "Novelty" must be seen to be appreciated.

How to Get this Valuable Knife.—We send it postpaid for $1.25, or give it as a Premium to the one sending us THREE NEW SUBSCRIBERS to the Bee Journal (with $3.00), and we will also send to each new name a copy of the Premium Edition of the book, BEES AND HONEY. We will club the Novelty Knife and the Bee Journal for one year, both for $1.90.

HONEY AND BEESWAX

MARKET QUOTATIONS.

CHICAGO, Dec. 12.—We quote best white comb at 15c; an occasional small lot of fancy sells at 16c; off grades of white, 12@14c; ambers, 10@12c. Extracted, 8@9c for fancy white; 7@8c for amber; 6@7c for dark grades.

Receipts are larger and the demand is not as good as it has been; most of the retailers have laid in a supply to carry them over the Christmas time.

R. A. BURNETT & Co.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 7.—There is a good demand for all kinds of extracted honey. White clover and basswood sell at 8@8½c; amber and Southern, 6@7c, according to quality and package. Fancy comb honey in no-drip shipping-cases sells at 15@16c; darker grades hard to sell at any price. Beeswax, 26c. C. H. W. WEBER, Successor to Chas. F. Muth & Son and A. Muth

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 9.—We quote No. 1 white comb, 13@14c; No. 2, 13@13½c; No. 1 amber, 13@13½c; No. 2, 12@13c. Extracted, white, 7½@8c; amber, 7@7½c; dark, 5@6c. Beeswax, 20@22c. C. C. CLEMONS & Co.

NEW YORK Dec. 10.—Demand is very good for all grades of comb honey. Receipts are somewhat light and not up to former years. We quote:

Fancy white, 15 cents; No. 1, white, 13@14c; amber, 11@12c; and buckwheat, 9@11c, as to quality. Extracted remains firm at following prices: California white, 8½c; light amber, 8c; white clover and basswood, 8c; amber, 7½c. Very little trade for extracted buckwheat as yet. Southern, fancy, 7½c per pound; other grades, as to quality, from 7c to 7½c gallon. Beeswax quiet at 26@27c. HILDRETH & SEGELEN.

CLEVELAND, Dec. 1.—Fancy white, 16@17c; No. 1 white, 15@16c; No. 1 amber, 13@14c; No. 2 amber, 12@13c; buckwheat, 9@10c. White extracted, 8@9c. A. B. WILLIAMS & Co.

BOSTON, Dec. 8.—We quote as follows: Fancy white, 16c; A No. 1, 15c; No. 1, 13@14c; buckwheat will not sell in this city. Extracted, light amber, 7@8c.

There is very little now to report in our honey market. The retail trade are loath to pay the higher prices and are buying in a very small way, still the demand is fully equal to the supply.

BLAKE, SCOTT & LEE.

ALBANY, Dec. 10.—We quote: Fancy white comb, 15c; No. 1 white, 13@14c; mixt, 11@13c; buckwheat, 10@11c. Extracted, white, 8@9c; mixt, 6½@7c; dark, 6. Beeswax, 26@28c.

MACDOUGAL & Co.

Successors to Chas. McCulloch & Co.

OMAHA, Dec. 11.—The November trade has not been as good as was expected, and shows a falling off from October. It seems that the somewhat higher prices this fall are affecting the consumptive demand to some extent, still the warm weather yet prevailing in this part of the country may also be partly responsible for it. While trade has been light, prices have been well maintained, nobody being burdened with stock to such an amount as to become oppressive.

Fancy white still going at 14@14½c, and light amber 1 cent less. Extracted, white, 8@8½c.

PEYKE BROS.

DETROIT, Dec. 11.—Fancy white, 15@16c; No. 1 white, 14@15c; dark grades, 10@12c. Demand good and supply light. No extracted in market. White would sell for 8@8½c. Beeswax, 23@24c.
